Features

Spares Inventory Included with this aircraft:

Averitt University (Danville, VA) Flight School owned both N207AU and N208AU. N208AU had a wing strike incident and was parted out. The spare parts shown came from that airplane and are included with this aircraft sale of N207AU.

There is no warranty or other representation made about these parts, but they all have appropriate yellow tags and the spare engine has a log book.

Complete Engine: this engine was on N208AU and sent to Continental factory where it received an IRAN inspection. It has been preserved correctly since the IRAN inspection.
